that composed our patronage our team never received the hearty and enthusiastic support upon the diamond that characterized the game in other cities where a purely local antience prevailed. This was discouraging and demoralizing to the club, whose good work, like the work of all clubs, can be enthusiastically inspired by generous cemmendation and applause. This feeling among ball players is not exceptional, but universal.

"Another grievance which is patent to all Washington city fans is the work of unfair and incompetent umpires. Being the home of Mr. Young, the new or untried umpire, who is brought here to officiate in a game, is impressed with the importance of the idea that he must show the in a game, is impressed with the importance of the idea that he must show the League President that he is wholly coprejudiced and unbiased, and in no sense a hone umpire. In accomplishing this desire he gives all close or doubtful plays to the opposing clubs, making it almost impossible in close contests for the local club to win a game that they otherwise would have a game that they otherwise would have you upon its merits. The re-sult, therefore, is that the Washington club has suffered from bad ampiring, both at home and abroad. These may seem trivial matters to the public, undeserving of attention, yet they have been fraugh with very amendistictory consequences."

The pass system is another perplexing and grievous burden that had to be borne. There is no club in the League that has been more persistently and systematically worked in this regard than the Washington club. For instance, the departments are filled with embryo statesmen halling from other cities in the country who occupy a conspicuous place upon the Government pay roll who imagine that all places of amusement or entertainment in the National Capital are, and by right ought to be, free to them. Failing to convince the local management that their chaim is well founded, they write—or have some influential friend to do so—to the owners of their home club, asking that they request the Washington management for extend to him the courtesize of an annual pass, as a result, the request is compiled with, the pass is issued, and you are expected to look pleasant, though your soul is plagued with the spectres of profane resentment for the reason that the beneficiary of the courtesy is not by any of the considerations that prompt or suggest these favors entitled to them.

"Washington is the home of President N. E. Young who has a legion of friends who must be provided with annual courtesies on account of 'Aaid Lang Syne,' requests from which he cannot escape as much as I know he would like to. So there is nothing to do but home. Taule Nick,' as well as those which promise to be, deserve investigation. The recovery of Chicago Gas during the last two days of last week was one of the most noticeable features of the market.

The break in the stock was a fine example of bear selling purely. It is probable that the quick covering was caused largely by the statement from an officer of the com-tures which will be required for extension and improvements, part of which must be paid for out of current income and a por-tion by the increase of capital. So much stress is laid upon the company's require-ments that the inference may be drawn that the dividend rate will not be in-creased. While the net earnings promise to show a large increase this year, par-theilarly from the advance in coal freight rates, the necessities of the company for improvements and greater dividend re-quirements owing to the increase of capi-ralization will be such as to make it unsal tanization will be such as to make the stabilish a higher rate of divident. If there is to be a further lasue of stock it would appear to be improvident to put the dividend upon too high a basis. If the earnings should warrant a more liberal to the stabilish of a technology on extra dividistribution to stockholders an exira divi-dend might be declared, and this would not commit the management to the main tenance of a higher rate than 5 per cent which is a fair rate to the investor under present money market conditions. A com-

If this theory is put into operation it will make hig holes in the pockets of local corporations. Think of what will happen to the Metropolitan Street Hailway, for instance. This company's $45,000,000. It has bonds aggregating more than $10,000,000. It has bonds aggregating more than $40,000,000 and a floating debt of certainly $5,000,000. Its real and personal property is not assessed at more than $15,000,000. Therefore, this new tax will mean the payment of $1,000,000 is more than $20,000,000 is more than $20,000,000 is more than $20,000 is more than $20,000,000 is more than $20,000,000 is more than $20,000,000 is more than $20,000,000 is more than $20,000 is the connection it is to be remembered that Metropolitan is the most opulent of all the local concerns.
